WORKSHOPS
A series of 13 workshops covering a range of key skills, behaviours and attributes as identified on Vitae's RDF. All workshops were mapped on to the RDF allowing for researchers to chart their progress and professional development. The workshops run throughout the academic year in a structured sequence, covering referencing and data management; skills; research ethics; publishing; and more.

9 RESEARCH THINGS
An online learning course introducing researchers to Web 2.0 tools aiming to improve the use and understanding of social media within the University's research community. The online course identified 9 'things' (social media tools) for research and explored the use of social media in research to communicate, exchange and share ideas. Reflection on learning was encouraged through blogging.

LIBGUIDE
The supporting online materials are hosted on a LibGuide and can be used to audit researcher's skills, behaviours and attributes and formulate a plan for development. The guide directs researchers to the series of workshops, lists useful services and resources to allow for the development of necessary knowledge to become successful researchers. www.hud.libguides.com/informedresearcher
